

Federal Communications Commission:

As a resident of the Cincinnati, OH, area, I have come to rely on listening to K-LOVE radio (104.3 FM) as a way to enjoy wholesome music without the worry of offensive lyrics that are found in many songs played on other stations. Also, K-LOVE features radio personalities who do not banter about offensive topics (e.g. shaving pubic hair) as you might hear on other local stations. Lastly, I find the commercial-free atmosphere of K-LOVE to be a refreshing change of pace. K-LOVE is commercial-free because it is listener supported, no small feat for a station so expansive, proving it is a wanted and valuable community asset toward which thousands of people contribute their hard-earned money. If K-LOVE were to be removed from the Cincinnati market due to displacement by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, it would cause a hole in this community that cannot be filled by any other programming currently available.

The public interest in K-LOVE is quite evident - a safe place on radio where the family can tune in for positive and encouraging programming.

Thank you for your consideration in keeping FM translator service intact as is currently in existence.
